

Path to Positive Communities Ambassador Agreement

As a Path to Positive Climate Ambassador I will help people to understand the links between climate and impacts in their community, the spectrum and benefits of climate solutions, and opportunities to act and advocate. I am empowered to inspire my colleagues, associations, the public, and policymakers on climate solutions that help protect the health and prosperity of our families and communities now, and ensure a prosperous, just, and secure future.

To facilitate Ambassador opportunities, Path to Positive (P2P) Communities will:

1. Provide the slides from this training, and a one-hour version of the Path to Positive Ambassadors Training, inclusive of talking points and citations, for me to use in presentations, along with other supplemental resources and handouts.
2. Host regular calls for all the Path to Positive Communities Ambassadors.
3. Invite you into a private online community of sharing and collaboration.
4. Provide program updates via email and newsletter.
5. Provide access to an online repository of resources.
6. Offer customizable promotional materials to use in soliciting presentation opportunities.
7. Send me prospective opportunities to present to my local community, from interest expressed via the P2P Communities and partners websites.

As a Path to Positive Ambassador, I agree to:

1. PRESENTATIONS: Give at least 3 Path to Positive presentations per year - ideally for groups of 15 people or more - using the presentation materials, talking points, or other resources provided to me by Path to Positive Communities via the Creative Commons 4.0 license of the materials. I will work to secure these speaking engagements (which can include presentations in existing forums like professional meetings or conferences, college courses, local environmental advocacy groups, etc.), and will also consider requests that come to me from Path to Positive Communities and/or my professional association.
2. ADVOCACY: Take at least 2 actions to advocate for climate solutions per year. These can include actions offered by Path to Positive or another organization, including:

- A. Sign on to a letter supporting climate solutions and encourage my peers to do the same;
 - B. Submit an Op Ed (Opposite the Editorial page) or LTE (Letter to the Editor) to a newspaper or periodical of record;
 - C. Call or visit my local, state, or national representative(s) to let them know I support equitable climate solutions that protect human health and well-being;
 - D. Publish a blog post or thought piece encouraging action on climate solutions on the website of my organization;
 - E. Attend a local, state, or national candidate forums to raise climate action as a priority;
 - F. Participate in an advocacy action that arises in my state, city, or profession.
3. Allow Path to Positive Communities and my affiliated civic institution, non-profit, or association (through which I received this training) to publicly list my name, title, affiliation(s), city, state, and speaking availability as a Path to Positive Climate Ambassador on their websites. I will also add the Path to Positive Climate Ambassador designation to my public profiles. I will provide contact information to program administrators to help connect me with presentation requests.
 4. As much as I am able, prioritize voting in primary and general elections at all levels of government, and help others register to vote and get to the polls on election day.
 5. Report to Path to Positive Communities about the presentations I give and advocacy actions I take.
 6. Support policies that align with the Vision, Principles and Commitment on Climate Change. Specific political candidate or party endorsement is not permitted using your Path to Positive Ambassador designation, although you may support candidates or parties as an individual voter.
 7. All actions taken as an Ambassador will be conducted voluntarily (stipends for your time or honoraria are allowed) and offer the Path to Positive presentations at no charge to audiences.
